FULL STORY

DELHI DELIGHTS

After an overnight flight into Delhi guests are welcomed with a beautiful scented flower garland before heading into the organised chaos that is Delhi. Delhi is an absolute feast for the senses – the traffic, the car horns, the riot of colour, sights and sounds is all part of the fun. For two nights we will stay at the fabulous Imperial Hotel, a calming oasis amongst the hustle and bustle. It is a beautiful property which exudes luxury and hospitality. In the cool air of 1911 Restaurant, we enjoy a sumptuous buffet lunch ahead of an appointment with a personal tailor – all will be revealed.

There's time after lunch to enjoy the local markets or dip in the pool. Then we head to Veda, a restaurant serving traditional home cooked Indian dishes in modern Delhi surrounds. The naan bread is particularly heavenly.

A FASCINATING WORLD

Today we explore. First up, a walking tour of India Gate with commentary from an experienced guide, before boarding the brilliant green and yellow tuk-tuks for a whizz around the roads. With the all-consuming hot air around them, car horns blaring, Bollywood music blaring out of a mono speaker at full volume and coming within an inch of every car that flashes past you, this is a truly exhilarating ride! With hearts in mouths, we move from tuk-tuks to rickshaws for an intriguing ride around the alleyways of Old Delhi. As we lose ourselves in the potholed maze of streets, monkeys hop overhead on the extensive web of homemade cabling, jewellery stalls glint in the sunlight, reams of colourful fabric sit temptingly on busy market pitches and cows munch lazily on discarded corn stalks. The alleyways are vivid, literally teeming with animal and human life, and an incredible experience to the uninitiated.

We regroup at Varq, a welcome escape from the beating heat and energy of the city, for lunch and a well-earned cold beer.

Come evening, we eat at the fabulous Spice Route, one of Delhi's most famous and best Indian food experiences, where the quality of the food is matched by intricate artwork adorning the walls – hand-painted with vegetable and flower dyes by mural painters brought in especially from a temple in Kerala.

ONE OF THE SEVEN WONDERS

It is an early start for the group as they head to Delhi train station for a train journey to Agra. The station is alive and buzzing in the early morning with thousands of people heading onto the world's busiest rail network. We're travelling in the luxury of an air-conditioned carriage – where we'll take in the incredible countryside views while enjoying steaming cups of sweet hot chai. We alight in Agra, a scruffy town with a stunning jewel – the inimitable Taj Mahal. Resplendent in white marble its easy to understand the Taj Mahal's status as one of the world's seven wonders. After time to take in the wonder, we have lunch at The Oberoi hotel before heading off on a long but fascinating journey to The Fairmont hotel in the magical city of Jaipur. There's time enough for an evening drink with dinner before we crash out after an incredible day, ready to wake up and explore again.

EXPANSIVE VIEWS OVER JAIPUR

Jaipur, the Pink City, is a joy but before we dive in it's direct to the stunning Amber Fort on private jeeps. At the top of the winding roads, the guests meet their guides and walk around the impressive fort, hearing stories of times gone by while enjoying expansive views over Jaipur itself.

Lunch in the Pink City is enjoyed at the Raj Palace where food enjoys a blessing ceremony ahead of tucking in. A traditional Thali is served in opulent surrounding then it's back to the hotel to prepare for the final night. You remember the tailors in Delhi?

Well, when the guests return to their rooms, made-to-measure Bollywood costumes are hanging in their wardrobes ready for a gala evening upon the rooftop. Under the stars, with guests adorned in their vibrant outfits and turbans hand-tied to order, an endless buffet of Indian treats is followed by a Bollywood lesson and a very special night to remember. A truly spectacular finish to this incentive to India.

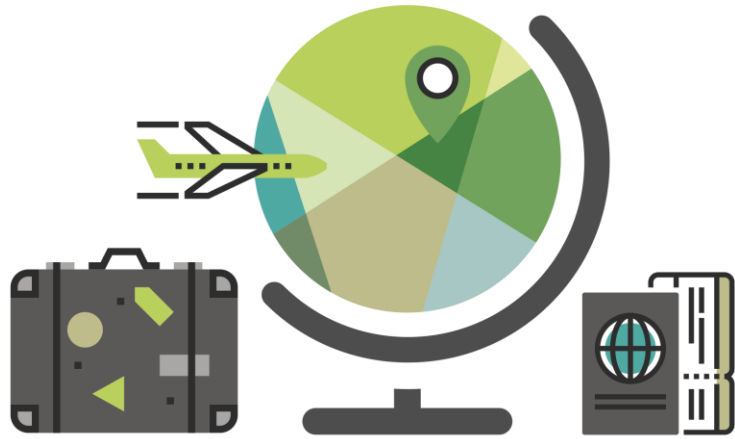

This is an example of an itinerary for 60 people (30 rooms). All our itineraries are completely bespoke and subject to suitability and availability.
